A World of Community

by Crystal (Patricia Jepsen)

Recently my daughter, a devout Christian and very loving person, asked me, "Mom, do you believe that everyone must accept Jesus Christ, and if they don't that they are condemned and cannot go to heaven?" "No," I said, "I do not believe that." "Well then," my daughter continued, "do you believe that the Bible is the single word of God?" "No," I said, "there are other scriptures that carry the word of God as well."

The Second Coming of Christ, as I understand it, is the Love of God filling and blessing all hearts, all religions and all creation. It is a take-over by Love! And

Welcome to The Community of Light

INTRODUCTION TO COMMUNITY

While he was speaking to the people, his mother and his brothers came and stood outside, and wanted to speak to him.

Then a man said to him, Behold, your mother and your brothers are standing outside, and they want to speak with you.

But he answered, saying to him who told him, Who is my mother and who are my brothers?

And he pointed his hand to his disciples and said, Behold my mother, and behold my brothers.

it is a celebration of Community!

When my gorgeous daughter asked me whether I believed that all who did not profess Jesus as their Lord and Savior would be lost, the best answer in the moment that I could give her was that the Jesus she described, who insisted that everyone accept him or be lost to God, was not my Jesus. I knew him not. That one was a stranger to me.

My Jesus, who walks amongst us now and whom some know as Lord Sananda, is the Divine Love essence of God. He is the radiation of the Solar dimension, the Christ Consciousness that sees and views all with affection and recognition. This Jesus in His “second coming” announces a world of community where man and God are intertwined in communion. Where the lion lies down with the lamb.

All life is sacred, my Jesus tells me. I have not written off any man, woman or child. I have been sent by the Father to bring all home. Not through the church necessarily, but through the heart. And this I will do.

Today, in this time of need, there is a call from Spirit to form communities of Light. These communities will be the reflection of God’s Love and reverence for this earth and all her inhabitants. Each community forming is seemingly separate, building on its own culture, spiritual backgrounds and scriptures. But each community will be the voice and the song of oneness—a solar camp waiting to be vibrated into the presence of the unified field of a New Earth and a New World dimension. Each community growing in Spirit will understand that we are aligned together and are in Spirit a common church, a revelation of God the Supreme.

These communities that represent the New Government of Christ, the Light of God, can begin with small groups meeting in prayer, meditation and spiritual learning. The community emerges as “where two or three are gathered, there am I.” Matthew 18:20. Community can and will be people with a common focus, led by the Spirit—living together in service to one another, to the planet and to the Heart of God.

Community leadership is sculpted and nourished by the Inner Voice, that Voice within each one that signals the Will of God and the respect for all life.

The Community Movement is swelling into a vibration of Life Intended. It is here with us as the way to live, protected by the Holy Spirit, guided by God’s Plan and fed by the sacredness of each heart.

This newsletter will be sharing much concerning building and living together in community. Christ Love is for everyone. It shines as Community, as the Star of Melchizedek through night and day. The new dimension vibrating through earth is the Divine Community of souls united in trust and love.

Seven Thought Seeds One for each day of the week

1. You are created wealthy, beautiful and divine. Be these things.
2. God is Love. Therefore, you were born in Love. Return to your true parent, Father-Mother God. In Them you have your being and I AM That.
3. Draw from your bank account within. The appearance around you is temporal, subject to your consciousness and your state of mind. When you turn within to your God Center, the appearance must change for the will of God is to reveal Himself.
4. No harm can come to you in Love. Be there in the First Anointing. Love is not only a shield but it is the awesome power of God.
5. God wants you to be God-like. Include God in every thought, feeling and action.
6. Let your consciousness radiate joy—the angels' playland. Be conscious of the angelic kingdom and be with them in your assignment.
7. Stand strong in your Good Place. Hear My Voice. Hate no one. Take no enemies. Punish no one. Unconditional Love causes the eyes to see and the heart to know. Be Christed After the Order of Melchizedek.

NEW! The Melchizedek Practitioner A Master Course in Healing Consciousness

Alignment with the Inner Voice is essential. The Creative Power, action of the Mother Spirit, rises to meet the Inner Voice and will respond immediately through the Christ Center of your own being. — Saint Germain

The principles of the Melchizedek practitioner are developed here, as well as the consciousness of the priesthood of Melchizedek. In this course you will journey through your own being and receive greater truths than you have ever believed possible. You will confront the “devil” in you and let it go. You will cleanse and resurrect, so that you can hear My Voice and become one with Me as “I AM.” The burdens will be lifted from your shoulders once and for all. You will learn to meditate correctly, see through the appearance and illusions of separation to the perfection of Being. You will build and not destroy. And you will learn how to encourage revelation. You will guide others into light and with them focus on the living Christ as the Center of All Being.

This is the first of its kind: a multi-dimensional course that will enhance your own life and enable you to become a healing consciousness after the Order of Melchizedek. The University will award you with a certificate of merit that declares you a practicing practitioner in the manner of Christ Jesus.

It's Time to move again!

Many of you reading this have subscribed to and have read the morning World Mother Script where it was announced that I was to be relocated. And many of you will recall my sharing with you that the owners are planning to sell this property. This may well be considered the "finish line" and the most important re-stationing of the University yet!

Early in November while sitting at my computer, I felt a sudden rush of powerful energy. It was so strong that I could barely contain it. Immediately I took up pen and paper to receive this transmission from Sananda: "You will be returning to California." No further information was given as to the location, date, or reason. I thought of Ojai and of Santa Barbara, as I had served there and felt it was compatible to the higher energies of the Melchizedek force field. As the days rolled on and then months, slowly I began to feel Sananda's presence and a drawing—a summoning—to serve at Mount Shasta, where I had served previously for five months prior to settling in Ojai. A brief history of my relationship and Sananda's to Mount Shasta will follow. But first, I want to share with you an email confirmation from two long-standing members of the University and valued channels of the Word. When it became clear that I was directly summoned by Lord Sananda to relocate to Mount Shasta (His Headquarters as Regent and Planetary Prince), I reached out to David and Valerie Cooper to meditate on this. Here is their reply and with it has come a sudden movement of energy that leaves no doubt in my mind and heart that it is time.

Crystal,

Received on retiring last evening and meditated individually then and through the night. Both of us received a strong communication that Mount Shasta holds significant and positive vibrations of Beloved Sananda and Saint Germain, and is the location in need of your presence.

The details of the rental property are positive, and although you sigh at the thought of another relocation, David is given that 'This will be the final move to the very peak of vibration. I am well pleased'.

We have confirmation too that your part in Glorieta was to prepare that vortex for Brother Benedict, and that his time in the area having been loved and respected, will encourage a community and sanctuary to form in the vibration of the Melchizedek Order. Our memories of Shasta, Redding and Weed are treasured beyond all others - a powerful and divine vortex.

Much love and blessings,

Valerie and David

World Mother Sanctuary Glorieta, NM

The History: The Past Is Prologue

Valerie was quite right in alluding to my reticence to move again, which has been my attitude when I became aware that this beloved sanctuary would be passed into someone else's keeping. Yet now, I am renewed in flesh and spirit and I know that this transfer, which will be the permanent area for the University and the burning Light of Lord Sananda, will be funded and guided all the way! I have no doubts about this and no doubts that many reading this will once again open their hearts, minds and hands to receive the necessary funds manifested and designated for this move to the great Mountain of Shasta. I feel at peace and at rest in knowing. Many helpers come!

The University has now rented a house/Center in Mt. Shasta. You will be receiving the new P.O. Box address soon. The plan is to leave here on April 28th and arrive at our new location in Mt. Shasta on May 1st.

My relationship with Mount Shasta goes back to when I first traveled there to meet Sister Thedra, who announced the "new name" of Jesus as Sananda. It was a holy place then. Sister kept the Lord's ministry and presence alive with her obedience to His Word and reverence to God. I am returning to Mount Shasta—not only to stand with Sananda—but to also cleanse and be a vessel to return the Mountain to the Christ Energy.

When I first visited Sister Thedra (there were many visits) I stood in front of a large photograph of the Master. As I was gazing in reverence at the picture, the temple-center began to quake and Sananda spoke these words: "You are My channel." Many years passed until I was in Tucson, Arizona. The University had purchased a beautiful center there. Suddenly, I felt the powerful presence of

Mt. Shasta, CA Courtesy USGS

Lord Sananda; and He directed me to sell the center and follow Him. I was to go into a special training to be His messenger for the Second Coming. Sananda continued that at the completion of the training, He would take me to "the Mountain." The Mountain I now understand to be Mount Shasta. Home of the Creator Son.

Much has occurred since that time. My final training occurred here at the World Mother Sanctuary in Glorieta. I will tell more about that in a separate letter. It is enough to say that much was accomplished. I am proud of this and proud of you, who with me, though veiled, have carried the faith to its completion. Now the finish line is to be approached. Many will gather with me, I am told, and we will build a community of Star Seeds to raise consciousness into the Beloved Son Sananda.

I believe I have said enough for now as no more comes. There will be proclamations made and new orders proclaimed shortly. My heart is at rest and sure that as we move forward as builders and keepers of God's Flame of Original Creation, all will fasten together in Christ after the order of Melchizedek.

With blessings,

IAM Crystal

A Message from Sananda (Vol. 2: 24)

Beloved, Now is My Hour. You rise with me. We are one. The consciousness I bring is the Master Life. The world does not touch you here. You are blessed in my Being. I AM the Teacher and the Son. I AM the Creator Son. In me stay secure; guided by my hand, be centered with the Light.

My peace surrounds this planet now. Energy comes to her of me. I AM the way, the truth and the life. I have come.

(When Lord Sananda says I AM the Creator Son, he is telling us that he carries with him that union and that essence. —Crystal)

For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and my sister and my mother.

Matthew 12:46-50 (George M. Lamsa translation)

Ponder on This:

In what way do these words of Jesus speak to the word "community"?

Have you thought what community means to you?

Why is the consciousness of community important in this New Millennium?

In the heart, where the Master dwells, might the real meaning of community be the extension of the Master's aura or Consciousness, His spiritual vibration of collective service and selfless, unconditional love?

A Community-Based Consciousness

We are called to community. Community is an extended family-be it church, school, hometown or kibbutz-like expression of living. As we progress into the heart center of our being and practice the Christ dimension of the Living Heart, we will see more communities of like-minded people emerging.

Circumstances and events, as well as the spiraling consciousness of Lightworkers, will prod these new communities into expression. Practicing group consciousness will impel community building and community living.

Many who have been caught up-even mesmerized-in our hi-tech informational age may begin to have second thoughts. Busy, busy, busy and faster, faster, faster has become the cry as humanity is becoming robot-like, forgetful of soul dreams and soft shining stars. When you forget to join the rhythm of the universe, you are lost. We must take time to meditate, to dream and to love compassionately. Slow down, humanity! You are going too fast, and you are going nowhere!

A community is based on love; it is born of the heart. Living from the heart is the causal plane, the Christ dimension, and here we meet each other as one life.

As the Christ dimension begins to stabilize as earth consciousness, all that is not based and functioning in unconditional love will pass away. According to the law of the Christ dimension and the causal plane, loving unconditionally is the primal energy; love is the cohesive energy that binds and holds all ideas and expressions together. Without unconditional love, business will dissolve and organizations will fail. The life of the body is in love.

Now we enter the Christ Flame and we lift our hopes and our dreams to living in community. The Christ plan realizes itself through us, as communities are formed through the law of love and the realization of the sacredness of all life.

A Lesson in Community Living

by Ann Carpenter

My eyes were opened to a greater understanding of community while living in Port Townsend, Washington.

As you drove or walked the streets of this small, artist community, you could not help but notice that humans were not the only travelers!

The deer walked through the town, also, fearless of any interference from humans. Because the town had an ordinance the deer were protected and could roam freely.

It was the first time I had ever seen wildlife invited into a community in such a way and will never forget this extraordinary experience.

As I looked at the deer, I knew they were as important to the community as I was and added a very important component.

They were so present that you had to include them in your thinking. I was careful in my driving because they were on the road, and in the way I spoke so as not to disturb them.

When I stopped to observe them, I loved the feeling of peace that would come over me. The deer never seemed afraid when I approached and allowed me to get very close.

My Experience of Community

by Rev. Benedict (World Mother Sanctuary)

In my many years of experience living in community I have come to understand that it is really love that builds community. It was at the Last Supper that Jesus gave the new commandment to his beloved apostles, "Love one another as I Love you" (John 15:12). Love is the flame coming forth from the hearth when each member of the community loses oneself in sharing individual gifts and talents to fulfill the vision of the community in Christ just like the pieces of wood stacked together to generate flame. My experience of community made me understand and live the seven qualities of the love of Jesus which a newly born community can live together.

The first is that Jesus loves everyone. He has a special kindness, respect, tolerance and acceptance of everybody, especially the poor and the marginalized.

The second is that Jesus always made the first step to love. When he first called his disciples along the sea of Galilee, he was the one who said the first word, "Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men." (Mark 1:17) It was a word spoken with great love in his heart for each of them. When I am called to a community, it is a must for me to also hear this first word of Jesus, "I love you and I am calling you to leave behind everything, deny yourself, take up your cross and then come and follow after me" (cf. Luke 14:27) All I need to do is to say in the words of the prophet Isaiah, "Here I am, send me!" (Isaiah 6:8)

The third quality of the love of Jesus is that He becomes one with those whom He loves. To the children He became a little child. To the teachers of the law He became a teacher like them. To the poor and the sick He showed acceptance, empathy and compassion. Entering a community with love in my heart I am ready to loose my own comfort zone and radically unite my feelings, my ideas and my very own life with those whom God has called me to be with. Yesterday, here in the World Mother Sanctuary I sat and rejoiced with Ann as she shared that she had called her husband Steve, and they had a very good conversation. To love in this way means for me "to weep with those who weep and to rejoice with those who rejoice". Chiara Lubich, the Foundress of the the Focolare Movement, a Catholic spiritual community for Unity, wrote once, "Nothing is so small when it is done out of love."

The fourth very interesting aspect of the love of Jesus is that of mutual love. There is a saying, "love begets love" and Jesus precisely keeps on loving despite many obstacles and challenges there are in the art of loving in order to win an atmosphere of love wherever He is. He puts in love where there is no love, as He did with the Samaritan woman He met on Jacob's well one very hot noonday moment of his life's journey on earth. The love that he gave to that woman became a wellspring of hope for her to begin her new life of discipleship in Christ.

The fifth great luster in the way Jesus loves is that He said, "love your enemies". (Matthew 5:44) Loving one's enemies is the Christ revolution for all ages. In a world tinged with so much violence and hatred, this very dictum of Christ offers a healing option to bring about peace, harmony and justice for all. Living in a community at times I experienced that I am my most fierce enemy as my selfishness, jealousy and anger test me and block my wholehearted and free capacity to love. So in this case, I pause and I listen and be gentle to regenerate the love of Christ for me so I can love myself as I really am and be able also to love others in their own negativities, idiosyncrasy and uniqueness.

The sixth golden quality of the love of Christ is that He loves without measure, expecting nothing in return. His kind of love is selfless and pure. All he wants is the good and joy of those around him. St. Bernard of Clairvaux, who founded the monastic group called the Cistercians, wrote that for him as a follower of Christ, "to love is to love without measure". In my own life living in many different communities like a missionary group, the Focolare School of Spirituality in Italy, with the Benedictine Monks in New Mexico, I experienced the personal love of Christ for me through those persons I have lived with as one of unconditional love. I felt accepted, treasured, valued and supported in my own woundedness and giftedness as a child of God. Now as Christ my Lord led my steps to the

From My First Clubs

A lot has happened since I bought my first set of clubs 18 months ago in a charity (thrift) shop for £8 ($15). I knew one day when I was watching The Masters' Tournament that I wanted to become a professional golfer.

In April 2007 I decided to join Louth Golf Club and took every opportunity to go there and practice. As I am homeschooled this gives me the flexibility to be able to play during the day. After a few professional lessons mum and I moved house so that I would be much closer to the golf course.

In January of this year I assessed my ambitions both for schoolwork and golf and set two goals - firstly to finish my compulsory education a year early, which would then allow me to concentrate on my golf training, and secondly to reach a single figure golf handicap as soon as possible. In doing this I knew that I could be motivated by achieving success in either activity.

As the end of the school term approaches, I am maintaining my school target, and my handicap has reduced from 28 to 18. In May when handicaps are re-assessed this will reduce further to 14 or 15. I am now qualified and will take part in county competitions, and also as a member of the junior team of my club. During the winter competitions I have won the club professional's Christmas Competition and the March Medal Competition, and came 2nd in the professionals' Stableford Competition. At another local course I also won the Seniors' Competition. All of these competitions were open to adults and juniors.

Recently a former colleague of my mum gave me a brand new set of PING golf clubs which he was unable to play with. In England these would cost in excess of £1,000 ($2,000).

In the future I will take with me the understanding that problems are a contribution to growth and success, and I should say 'thank you' whenever I play bad shots or struggle with my maths. I have found the discipline of playing golf teaches me so much about living a full and abundant life, and I am thankful that I have been blessed with this special gift.

I hope you have enjoyed the sharing of my golf experiences.

World Mother Sanctuary, the more I experience this being loved by Christ through Crystal, Ann, Betsy and Susan unconditionally, just as I am. In my way of expressing my love for others especially my wife Marlene, I also say, "I love you just the way you are".

Finally, the seventh characteristic of the love of Jesus is that in loving He offered Himself up on the cross for all of us. He became true to His very own words, "No greater love man has than to lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13) Again in my experience living with a community, this is the very pact of love that I declare, to love with the very standard of the love of Christ, to offer myself and my life for others in the community. It is this very aspect of dying to self, dying to my own worldly attachments, dying to my own concepts and ideas and living only the new life and vision of the whole in my community that validates my true membership in the community. I experienced living in the Zen Buddhist community in Manila and in the Buddhist understanding of community or 'sangha', a community is a place of refuge. One of the Buddhist chants says, "I seek refuge in the sangha."

As I join the community here in the World Mother Sanctuary, I consider it as my new christian 'sangha', my place of refuge and Mary, our Mother is the one I find solace and comfort in as she expressed her presence daily through my companions here. One of the Latin titles of Mary is refugium peccatorum or refuge of sinners. I honestly and sincerely identify myself with that spectrum of affiliation to Mary. In the world beset and contaminated by all forms of ungodliness and impurity, I seek refuge in the heart of Mary, our Mother, and here and there I find the love, strength and comfort my soul is longing and thirsting for. Here in the World Mother Sanctuary I experienced the cessation of all forms of worry, fear and anxiety for what may come about. All I know and feel is the peace and assurance that now that I belong to a community here, God will supply everything I need in alliance with the mystical parlance of a catholic saint which echoes, 'all will

The deer were my friends and teachers. They reminded me that there is more to life than our everyday activities and helped me to expand my circumference.

I learned that when humans do not dominate a community life becomes richer and fuller. No one is greater or lesser but each has its place and part to play in the whole.

Now from a broader sense, this small community, could be depicting what is possible on a global scale.

What if we could see the animal kingdom equal to us and had a true partnership with all life.

To me this would be a New World where all life is included.

I carried this understanding to Glorieta, New Mexico, where I live against a National Forest amongst the community of trees, coyotes, wolves, snakes, bear, and cougar. The Port Townsend experience helped me to remember everything has its place.

While outside with my dog, Jamie, I was looking at the small garden and out came a snake.

For the first time in my life, I saw the snake as a part of the community and was more concerned with its welfare than mine. I told the snake I was not there to hurt it and that it could go on its way. One experience is a stepping stone for another.

I am so grateful that my heart has been opened to a new sense of community and what is possible for all of us on this beautiful planet.

be well'. In conclusion as I write this I commit myself to love only according to the very qualities and measure of the love of Christ.

I invite Jesus now to come and find a loving welcome in my consciousness so I will be totally transformed in His very own mind, so I can love deeply and humbly in my heart. Yes, there is no other way today for me, love is the only way, that is, to love everyone with the very love of Christ.

- Always smile to someone being a git!

Keep focused on getting a low score and always think on every shot that I do and always having the chance of getting a birdie!

If a junior says, "Come and play with us", and I am in the middle of my game whilst practicing, always say, "No thanks!"

Think like a pro!

Play like a pro!

Act like a pro!

I AM a Pro!
